Building Happy Communities

Through Harnessing Entanglement Farming of Virtues

In the global framework for action, the totality of lines and rays of efforts of virtues in actions are a quantum summation process where all local civilization and cultural paths merge into a new trajectory carried up through the mountains of an ever-advancing civilization. This form of development is a robust one and cannot be scissor or hammered into pieces.

Living on the earth is a joyous celebration. Potentially, we earthlings are the most festive, loving and joyful beings. There are so many community festivals where the discourse of one common happiness for all is set in motion. Right now, the pulse of global festive communities are being disrupted and cultural and sports festivals cancelled capabilities to improve the standard of living for all people in earth. Seeing this alternative in the light of the framework for action to canalize the human virtues to the level of rectitude is the most promising core initiative. For this end, our aim is to strengthen our relationships with the wider community and society at large. This could allow us to present the coherence and congruence of due to the pandemic. Under these uncertain conditions, our community members has reach out and consulted about the way's cultures can harness the congruence evolution of co-operation and spreading happiness. We have reached the conclusion that cultural festival states have the historically entanglement farming the festive relationships between the virtues. This is the emerging world's cultural states revolution that infuses every neighborhood with a new kind of celebrating spirit capable of directing the exergy inflows and outflows that happiness can be reached to every person without restriction.

Board of Director Letter

Dear Sachi community,

We are humbled and grateful to all of our volunteers, virtue Ambassadors, partners RCDA, Tennen Sainen Community, Cares Community, Unity language center and staff for their high resolve and for adapting to new ways of doing our core activities during the COVID-19 crisis. Because of the crisis, We are all reminded of how our beloved Ambassador Sachi kept spreading happiness, continued schooling and reached out to everyone to wish happiness with her beautiful smile even when her physical body entered the final stage of endurance. This is the reason Sachi Foundation was formed in the first place and being a volunteer in Sachi community is about having a mindset of learning, adapting, response-receptivity, talking with the universal language of smiles and taking action in the spirit of service under all circumstances. Thanks to the tireless efforts of volunteers and Ambassadors, the year July 2019-2020 is shown to be a year of learning, strength, and accelerating growth. As we move forward, we are learning deeper about ways to build the future of the supply chain channels essential for the flow of energy and happiness. The board has dedicated significant resources and financial grants towards the construction of the supply chain that allows happiness to spread to every community and town across the globe. The critical steps towards building this supply chain is already underway through our joint efforts with our partners joining the orbit of the new Mikoshi world civilization. The principles that guide our approach can be exemplified by examples from our initiatives such as online tea ceremony and quantum entanglement of poetry that aim to celebrate the essential virtue relationship that exist between cultures.

Drawing on the guidance given by the Universal House of Justice, insights gained from our research works, experiences gained from our volunteers and partners whole Community approach, the board decided to focus around what is needed for local community entanglement farming and its ways of channelizing human virtues that is necessary for the interlocking mechanism of the global cultural Festival states. The advantage of our approach is that in such an entangled field, the happiness will flow in and out in seamlessly.

Our discourse work with the global community is just as important. We sincerely hope the situation with the pandemic gets under control and a vaccine is soon discovered.

Meanwhile, we have not been idle but are actively working with our partner, Cares Community to bring awareness about the pandemic to scale up the community responses and assure the community of our care and vigilance. True to the cooperative spirit of the Sachi community, our management committee have provided these seminars for free. The board sends its greatest appreciation to all of you. Keep safe and well. Thank you all.

On Smile!

If we are to spread happiness, effort is required. We must be caring and hardworking. Our approach to service provisions of care and wellbeing reflect the energy needs of all people. Like a wonderful food forest that give forth fruits and nutrition for the benefit and enjoyment of all, we work hard to build the network channels that allow energy of true smiles and loving care reach to all around us.

Festival Information Stalls

We had two Japanese Festival information stalls in Sunshine Coast and Mount Gravatt during 2019.

Message from the management committee

Our world is undergoing a mental, social, and spiritual revolution where the happiness ambassadors - the birds of festivals of cooperation and unification are singing the song of happiness for all.

Management committee consultation meeting with volunteers— January 5th, 2020. The bimonthly volunteer meetings allow us to get together, reflect, consult, and deepen on themes related to the discourse of one-common happiness for all. As Covid-19 got hold in the community and social restriction became necessary, we migrated to the on-line Zoom meeting.

Dear friends,

In these difficult and unprecedented challenging times, the management committee sends each one of you their love and greetings. There are a lot of happenings at Sachi community and we certainly cannot manage all our tasks alone. We would like to invite you to learn more about what we do and how you can help us with the management tasks? The important point for us is that as we engage more with each other in the spirit of happiness and joyfulness, we are better equipped to understand each other's virtues and find out about the virtue enabled decisions that would be best servers in a particular community situation. Your support is always welcome and valued. Please let us know if you would like to engage more with our community building activities.

The learning network

The foundation of learning network rests on our ability to juggle the three spheres of learning- the cultural, the scientific and spiritual education- to harmonize different customs and address the challenges in building the exergy channels essential in entanglement nurseries and farming of virtues

The directory of the cultural festival states

This collection represents our most significant cultural development. It assembles and classifies information about the world's Cultural Festival states and how it can help us to establish the Unity language for better understanding of shared human virtues in action and their cultural arrangement in human societies. We are certain over time it will become an important part of the Cultural Festival states capacity building processes. This database is managed by our partner "Unity Language Center".

Becoming a volunteer in our organization means having the choice to walk a path of service that builds capacity and rectitude. On this path, each conduct seeds to an abundant variety of possible actions that assert virtues in all different settings. So, it is not about what lines of effort our volunteers chose to advance but how resilience they are with it and by what degree are able to assert values, shape collective action and sustain the exergy flow for the community under any contingencies. This does not mean one confuses the virtue of patience in action with that of state of limbo. Having patience is a sign of respect and loving kindness for others as they do activities together, while a state of limbo, when talk exceeds actions can turn the narrative around in a way that restrict our potential for growth. For us, this poses a different kind of challenge and it is best to be dealt through the Ruhi institute learning materials. It is important to understand what the culture of learning is in our organization and how it effects the sustainable development and long-term growth of spreading happiness. In a way, our culture of learning defines the kind of volunteering that is acceptable for Sachi foundation.

What is Exergy?

Every interaction we do requires energy be it physical, mental, cultural, or spiritual. But not every kind of energy is suitable for every kind of interaction. For example, the human body needs chemical energy obtained from food, to grow. We cannot directly digest the energy from the sun to grow. i.e. we cannot sit in front of the sun and say we are getting nutritious energy from the sun – and that there is no need for eating. Exergy is the quality of interaction in energy that allows us to do useful things such as healthy growth. A healthy system has a high level of exergy but as it performs its efforts, it destroys and degrades into the entropy. i.e. As exergy loses its quality and usefulness, the more degradation and the more entropy will generate in the system. There are two main cooperative sources of exergy available for social actions. One is the energy from the founders of the civilization states and need to be accessed through houses of worship to be converted into exergy. The other source of exergy is the exergy sources from the cultural festival states. These sources of exergy are the result of the sum -total of efforts and lines of actions of thousands or even millions of individual artists, craftsman, architects, poets, discourse builders, educators and linguistics. The addition process is however not a linear static process but a complex quantum addition process. It is similar to the totality of the efforts of a farmer who prepares the land, builds water channels, cultivates, and finally harvests the crop. And after that, the community will still need to be concerned about the food transport, nutritious, food preparation and digestion to sustain a happy and healthy body for all. This is what we refer to the entanglement farming and harvesting. Likewise, human virtues are the seeds that are vital for healthy growth of the cultural and spiritual dimensions of community life and this is the reason, we refer to the entanglement farming and harvesting of virtues and rectitude of conducts that are part of the global framework for action. The task for our volunteers are to build the exergy channels through cultural interaction and integration. This is not simple as it seems, and we need to learn about the principles and the nature of institutes that flow from these principles to develop our strategies and guide our approach.

Foundation news

Hello and welcome to the fifth edition of the “Wings of the Coo”. God has given each one of us a lifetime of virtue scholarship to live in this planet and use it to advance in all matters of deeds and nobility. How sad if the best of our efforts is not used and we lose the value of this scholarship.

This year we have shown to the world that one way the dream of Ambassador Sachi can be realized is when we work together at a global scale while building capacity at the local community scale. In this issue, we are going to update our learning about the nature of volunteering in Sachi Foundation. But before we discuss the volunteering in our organization, let us recognize and celebrate our volunteers and their generous efforts during July 2019-2020 by sharing the wonderful news and activities that continue to be recognized on both global and local level.

- Between August 2019 and July 2020, we had four face to face volunteer meeting and two zoom online volunteer meeting and two online seminars.
- Between August 2019 and January 2020, our bi-monthly regular clean up days continued at the Caboolture local community before it was postponed due to the onset of the pandemic.
- In September 2019, our volunteers put together an information stall at Matsuri Festival Brisbane, complete with handmade cultural artefacts and crafts. It was a fantastic effort and attracted many festival goers seeking information about Sachi Foundation.
- In September 2019, our sponsored research work on a new economic model and its relation to entanglement farming was presented in EASTS International conference. This work has subsequently been published in the high-quality research Journal proceedings and now can be accessed by public.
- Tennen garden & sharing (Hyogo, Japan):
This is a great time to plan for the coming growing season. Our new planning program involves "Cultivating our heart gardens" , studying the uplifting words and "Growing healthy together " by learning and studying about the natural remedies and alternative medicines using herbs in the garden in relation to the community traditional culture.
- We responded to both the United nation and WCTR surveys regarding Covid-19. Our survey response to WCTR was published as the world-wide expert opinion in the SSRN electronic Journal.
- We introduced the phase III expectant parents' empowerment project in July 2020.
- In Pakistan, Resource Centre for Development Alternative (RCDA) is continuing to work on expectant mother projects. We will start the expectant parents phase IV soon.
- The cares community online seminar series are offered at no cost. It covers themes such as nutrition needs, healthy lifestyle black lives matter, expectant mother, social justice and entanglement farming and happiness and well-being for people with disability. We are honored to choose cares community as our partner for expanding our lines of efforts and spreading happiness to peoples of disability, children, youth and homeless peoples with drug and chronic health conditions. Education and happy lifestyle are inextricably connected. Helping these groups become better equipped with arts, crafts and sciences is very important and also need to include their wellbeing in our lines of actions.
- The management committee is of the opinion that there are many benefits in organizing a festival dedicated to entanglement concept in poetry. This festival will allow us to see how all the different possibilities give rise to a certain action. It is also a source of motivation for all volunteers, as we can see in a broader sense, how to initiate the discourses to facilitate the community awareness of the virtues in united action and having fun together.

- We are so grateful for all of you who have done so much and are ready to help us more with their time and skills. They send digital post cards during covid-19 isolation to people with disabilities and help elderlies with their transportation. They also donated vegetable and eggs from their backyard food forest and donated computers and laptops to set up their internet connection.
- Our volunteers, Nuachapohn Detsongjarus, Yi-Ying Lin and Mavis Wong got together and volunteered their creative skills in support of our lines of effort. Their artwork was sold, and the proceedings were donated to the Sachi Foundation. Mrs. Nahid Khalili also offered a prayer for the success of our efforts. We are greatly appreciative of their exergy gifts in the support of the Sachi foundation's mission.

Wishing you all the happiest and the best times ahead. Please stay safe.
